Mayor's Shopping Spree To Benefit Plainfield Area Interfaith Food Pantry

Plainfield, IL -- On Friday, April 4 at 8:30 a.m., Mayor Waldorf will go on a shopping spree at the Jewel-Osco Store located at 13460 S. Route 59 in Plainfield. During his shopping spree, the Mayor will shop the frozen food section for as many items as he can possibly put in his shopping carts in three minutes.

The Mayor's shopping spree, sponsored by the National Frozen Food Association and Jewel-Osco, will benefit the Plainfield Area Interfaith Food Pantry.

"The Plainfield Interfaith Food Pantry is a wonderful organization and they have a strong group of dedicated volunteers who have served the greater community for many years. I hope this shopping spree will help fill their freezers and then in turn fill the freezers of those in need," explains Mayor Waldorf. "I appreciate Jewel-Osco and the National Frozen Food Association's dedication and commitment to helping the community."

Joining Mayor Waldorf at the shopping spree will be David Paul, the Jewel Food Store Director and John Drohan of the National Frozen Food Association. A representative of the Plainfield Area Interfaith Food Pantry will also be in attendance.
